#19 HORTICULTURE THERAPY

OVERALL WINNER - Rock Spring Garden Club (Aiii) NCA

Research shows that horticultural therapy programs improve mental and physical well-being in all, and especially with children diagnosed with developmental delays and mental or physical disabilities. This club works with challenged students introducing them to gardening activities. Indoor and outdoor classrooms are used with many projects; planting seeds, spring bulbs, designing floral arrangements, making pinecone feeders, exploring outdoor and sensory gardens, etc.
